

Do you have ideas about preserving Delaware's historic places?

You are invited to attend one of the following public meetings to share your thoughts and hopes about the future of historic preservation in Delaware

Thursday, February 1, 2007

6:30–8 p.m.

Bear Public Library

101 Governors Place

Bear, Delaware 19701

Monday, February 5, 2007

6:30–8 p.m.

Delaware Visitor Center and Galleries

406 Federal Street

Dover, Delaware 19901

Tuesday, February 6, 2007

6:30–8 p.m.

Department of Libraries Conference Room

Sussex County Administration Building

22215 DuPont Boulevard

Georgetown, Delaware 19947

Wednesday, February 7, 2007

6:30–8 p.m.

Wilmington Senior Center

1901 North Market Street

Wilmington, Delaware 19802

(Entrance and parking off 19th Street)

These public meetings are sponsored by the Delaware Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs as a part of the process to update the statewide Historic Preservation Plan.

The current Delaware Historic Preservation Plan is available on the web at:

<http://history.delaware.gov/preservation/planning.shtml>

Tune into any of the following radio stations for news about cancellation due to inclement weather:
WGMD 92.7 FM (Rehoboth Beach); WAFL 97.7 FM (Milford); WDEL 1150 AM (Wilmington); WDOV
1410 AM (Dover); or WILM 1450 AM (Wilmington).

For directions and other information, call the Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs at (302) 736-7400. You can also visit MapQuest and utilize the addresses provided above.

All meetings are free and open to the public.

